By order dated August 27, 2013, the Court granted Plaintiff's Motion For Leave To 2 Conduct Third Party Discovery to learn Defendant's true identity. As a result of that discovery, 3 Plaintiff recently learned Defendant's identity. Defendant is represented by counsel. Plaintiff's 4 counsel and Defendant's counsel are in discussions to settle this matter.

- 2. Facts. Defendant is an experienced computer hacker. As set forth in the Complaint, Defendant fraudulently posed as an Administrator of one of Plaintiff's largest clients in order to unlawfully access Plaintiff's protected computer system, without authorization, and misappropriate and wrongfully disseminate a large volume of information stored on Plaintiff's system. Defendant also unlawfully provided third parties with the means to improperly access and use Plaintiff's computer system and information contained on that system. Defendant went to great lengths to conceal his true identity and hide from liability for his wrongdoing.
- 3. Legal Issues. Whether Defendant violated the CFAA and California Penal Code § 502(c), and whether Defendant committed common law trespass, breach of contract, and tortious interference with actual and prospective economic advantage.
- 4. Motions. The Court previously granted Plaintiff's Motion For Leave To Conduct 16 Third Party Discovery to learn Defendant's true identity, which served its intended purpose. There are no motions pending at this time.
  - 5. Amendment of Pleadings. If the parties are unable to settle this matter shortly, Plaintiff will likely amend the Complaint to correct the Defendant's true identity.
  - 6. Evidence Preservation. Plaintiff has reviewed the Guidelines Relating to the Discovery of Electronically Stored Information ("ESI Guidelines"). The parties have not yet met and conferred pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(f) regarding reasonable and proportionate steps taken to preserve evidence relevant to the issues reasonably evident in this action.
  - 7. Disclosures. Plaintiff only recently learned Defendant's true identity and no initial disclosures have been made pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26.
  - 8. Discovery. The only discovery taken to date is that which lead to the discovery of Defendant's true identity. If the parties do not settle shortly, Plaintiff likely will amend the
